ACCOUNT/MERCHANT LISTING

CREATED, DESIGNED, & COMPILED BY...

VIDEO VINDICATOR

INTRODUCTION/INSTRUCTIONS

Welcome yet another file by yours truly, Video Vindicator! Well, this file is sort of a burn out one for me now, so this most likely will be the last release, but the best... What it basically does for you is identify any account you may have, or pull up... Not only does it do this, but it also supplies you with quite a few accounts (minus the pw's) to play with... The first bit of 2 letter identifiers tell you what the specific account is, so If you decide you need to inquire in the form of an Auto company, that is possible. Any of them that start with a (?) are not definant what they are, but my best guess is what is listed. Any that say UNKNOWN are fairly self-explanatory. Make sure to verify the freshness of this wonderful file by the date in the upper left hand corner of my title. This is the sister-file to the Carding, My Way Trilogy, but can be used as a stand-alone file for all those striving for a higher awareness through CBI (Although they have changed their name to Equifax, they will always remain CBI in my heart).

As with all my files, I claim full responsibility for everything contained herein, and make no hesitation to support and illegal use of this info.

If you do a pullup which has an inquiry or account with either a ID I don't have and/or an account/merchant name, please leave me mail so I can update the next release. Remember, CBI Accounts are port-specific, so do not attempt to use any of these ID's at any port outside of their area. This would most likely cause the early demise of the account. The only companies who issue major credit cards are BB's, FC's, and ON's. Minor credit cards are issued mainly by CG's, DC's, HZ's, OC's, etc... As far as major card companies are concerned, FC's are the hardest to abuse.

Here is just kind of a overview or what each first letter refers to, since the second (in most cases) seems to refer to a more specific part of the large group topic... I'll just go through the alphabet as best I can...

CBIACNT5.TXT

Ok, all those marked with a '*' are unused areas, meaning I found nothing within that letter range. All those marked with '+' (only 0 for now) were ones that did not fit the algorithym I made for the 2 char identifiers.

I'm starting to think that the Z might represent misc. in all areas, but I am not sure yet... If that is the case, then I will update accordingly...

THE 2 CHAR ALGORHYTHM

Ok, here's a basic overview of how they decided to encode the two char identifiers. Ok, it's really simple, it's just a time consuming process to do. They have a base digit for each 3 digit city code, so, for example, 162's base is what I made the list to the right off of. So, 163's base A would be +1. Pretty basic, in a sence, but CBI doesn't follow quite that simply, they tend to skip numbers every so often, and I haven't gotten a chance to compile a big enough list to spot an obvious pattern. So it is best usually to scan out the first three and AA, then when you find the base, compare it to the list, and then just add the appropriate number to the sum you get. Ok, so here's a brief example:

162aa? | 0 + 1 + 1 = 2
(162) (a) (a) (seed)
163aa? | 1 + 1 + 1 = 3
(163) (a) (a) (seed)
163re? | 1 + 4 + 7 = 2
(163) (a) (a) (seed)

- A 1 / 1
B 9 / 0
C 7 / 9
D 5 / 8
E X / 7
F 0 / 6
G 8 / 5
H 6 / 4
I 4 / 3
J 1 / 2
K 9 / 1
-----
L 7 / 9
M 5 / 8
N X / 7
O U / 6
P 8 / 5
Q X / 4
R 4 / 3
-----
S 9 / 0
T 7 / 9
U 5 / 8
V 2 / 7
W 0 / 6
X 8 / 5
Y 6 / 4
Z 4 / 3

163re is a good example of what occurs fairly often, numbers rotate 0-9 then back to 0, they never go into 10's or higher numbers. Now, some of the more obvious uses of this are the fact that you can now check to see whether or not an account you get has the POSSIBILITY of being good. I'm not saying it will say work, simple that you got a valid account and not some made up shit. Also, using this will help in finding accounts which normally you never see. Combine this with the last 5 digit algorithym and it's a big plus in scanning out and finding new accounts. Now I did run into some problems with this in only one range, that it 0 major. It seems that ON and OC both had different numbers for 0 major, which made it a 'best guess' situation. Appart from that, the listing and algorithym should be complete... Enjoy...

MISC COMMENTS

Ok, here are some basic thoughts or notes I'd like to make on some of the information herein. If the account (the merchant ID) is listed twice, it's because they have more than one field denominator. If you are wondering why some companies have more than one CBI account, it's because one is for the credit verification department (which will show up in the inquiries) and one for the individual stores and/or the main branch that issues the card (the acct which the information is listed on the pull). I think that some of the dept store cards (DC, CG, HZ, etc) are actually controlled by the Sears Financial Network and can be treated like Discovers. When you notice a bank with the same four digits as another bank in it's Visa or MC, this is probably due to the fact it contracts out for it's cards. The larger will be the true bank, but the issuing and account are controlled by the one listed.

COMPANY ACCOUNTS/MERCHANT NAMES

One note on all the below accounts. If the merchant name appears in all CAPS then it has not been verified, and is just a retype of the CBI 8 char identifier. If anyone has any leads to the true identities of these comps, please notify me. Also, new to this release is the FIRST 6 area. This contains the first 6 digits off of any MC/Visa/AmEx/Disc that I pass over, so by referencing those number, you can always find out what the issuing bank is. One note, I included the 6 digits in a '(' so it makes searching easier... Simply search for (xxxx that way you won't get stuck on acnts that match that number. The last 2 I simply put on for the hell of it, and rarely match other cards.

Another quick note as towards some of the info you find. Some DC's are Visa's, MC's, or Discovers. This is due to the fact that many of the smaller stores opt to contract out for their credit services... You see, Pier One Imports CC is actually a Discover (processed through the Sears financial network (thus it starts with a 6011)), whereas some stores opt to do their own credit, such as Circuit City, who owns the bank they process their cards thru. One bank which is very common for small chain credit services is Barclays. If you run across an account, which is a DC, DM, CG, or whatever, yet it fits the Visa or MC configuration, it is most likely processed through them.

FIRST GROUP NUMBER/STATE

Ok, For this release I completely redid this area, so try to make life a little bit easier. For right now, I still list them in numerical order, but I could easily switch to state first... Please let me know which you prefer so as to make my decision. If there are any discrepancies, I apologise, this is a real bitch area to work on and get 100% correct without a manual (or for that matter, even 75%)...

OTHER FILES TO REFER TO

Here's some of the other files I have released concerning CBI and/or Credit card Fraud:

Carding, My Way - 3 parts	- Covers from intro to advanced carding
The Complete CBI Manual	- Teaches you exactly how to use CBI
Spy Schools	- Lists several Fraud Newsletters

And coming out soon...

Total Access - 4 Parts	- Finally a file that REALLY teaches you how to pick locks, make keys, identify mechanisms, and even how to make your own tools!
------------------------	--

Any of them would bring awe's of admiration if finely bound and left in plain sight. Pick 'em up at a good board near you.

CONCLUSION

This concludes thie 'CBI Accounts and Merchant Directory' series... I hope they have helped you in ways very porfitable. Be watching for my new series of files called the 'Reference Series' which contain some very useful info for many of the more intresting things to do out and about. Also in and around November I should release the first file in the Total Access series. A series of files that FINALLY tell you how to pick a lock, and not just some bullshit line like, "Well, you get a tool, then put it in the lock, move it around until the lock opens and you're done." We need more quality Anarchy files out there.

I definantly enjoyed seeing my handle printed in that article in the San Diego Times, along with reference to some of my files... It's so nice to be appreciated by the proper authorities. Check it out in Phrack 39's files on /<ludges bullshit with the Gestapo. Also check out the police reports about it in the upcoming Phrack (40?). Let's show those worthless narc sacks-of-shit just how grateful we all our for them helping the communist fuck government rid themselves of all those damn mafia-criminal-satan-evil-scum hackers. Fuck them... Fuck the government... And most especially, Fuck the World. Nobody likes fucking traitors to the cause... I'd like to make them lick the shit out from between the polices ass cheeks. Hacking isn't a hobby, Phreaking isn't illegal, and Fraud isn't a crime. They all are lifestyles, which should be enjoyed and exploited to the best of our abilities. Once the government DEFINES freedom, they DENY it. No matter how small, no rule forced upon the masses is fair and just. The riots in LA are a prime example of this feeble counties inability to deal with problems, even UNORGANIZED ones. So my fellow 'Freedom Fighters'. I say organize to conquer... Organize AND conquer. Lets help to make America become the hell on Earth that it really is, and THEN try to fix things that are real, not just coverup trash. Organize...

Also lets all do our part to help fuck the government. Don't vote. None of the choices are worth SHIT. Bush will let us stagnate 4 more years, Clinton will let use stagnate 4 more years, and lie to us at the same time, and Perot... Well, I don't know WHAT the hell Perot would do for 4 years, but I don't want to find out. Just vote for me! And my first act of office will be to pardon myself and everyone I know... Lets see how the American social-slaves like that stunt. The movie Sneakers get a good vote from me. Even though it wasn't ALL that accurate, it was fun to watch, and had some funny parts (like a microcassette has good enough sound quality to open a voice-coded door? Yah, right).

Special thanks go out to all those who made this fine file possible, but especially to these hardworking, upstanding, individuals:

|                   |              |             |

| DIGITAL HITLER    | MINDWALKER   | REDRUM      |
| MAXIMUM OVERDRIVE | STRATO VIPER | MR DRUNKFUX |

All listing in absolutely no fucking order! Hi to anyone else who I forgot (whether deliberate or accidental). Get in touch with me on any of the Boards listed below, Since I always like to hear from my readers... Or just call them because they're awesome and get my files! And always remember...

If you fart in a desert, and no one's there to smell it, does it still stink?
